

xTablet flex 10B

Rugged, lightweight, entry-level mobile tablet

The Flex 10B is built on the Flex 10A's rugged, lightweight form factor now with twice the performance, thanks to Intel's Celeron N4100 Quad Core processor. Additional upgrades include increased storage and enhanced, better performing Wi-Fi, and all for the same price of its predecessor. Achieve more with clever built-in features that include a briefcase handle and back hand strap for easy portability along with our snap mount system that offers a wide array of mounting solutions. Optional keyboard and integrated MSR are also available for the Flex series. An ideal entry-level rugged tablet built for the mobile workforce, and an excellent choice for agriculture, construction, distribution, field service, field sales and retail.
